Boar Horse

Matthew Rich

The first of 123 remarkable coins in the long-running Boar Horse series, the earliest silver coins minted in Lincolnshire, struck by tribal rulers 50-100 years before the Roman invasion of AD 43 when wild boars still roamed the Lincolnshire Wolds. Rich Type 1a, Serpent Proto Boar.

A comprehensive catalogue of uninscribed silver coins minted in Lincolnshire c.60 BC-AD 10 by the Corieltavi ('army of the broad land'), first recorded people of the East Midlands. Enlarged drawings and detailed descriptions of 123 coin types and sub types make identification easy.

Maps and other illustrations bring the Boar Horse story to life, as never before.

Boar Horse tracks the development of the earliest silver coins of the Corieltavi, c.60 BC-AD 10, and catalogues 123 types and sub types. Every coin is described in detail, with a guide to its rarity. Every coin is clearly illustrated by crisp enlarged drawings to make identification simple. Boar Horse is a pioneering book, easy to read and a joy to behold. Essential for anyone interested in the ancient history, ancient art or numismatics of the East Midlands. "One of the most beautiful, fascinating and complex coinages of the British Iron Age has finally received the attention it deserves" says Dr Philip de Jersey. "This superbly illustrated catalogue is the ideal handbook to guide collectors through the maze of types and varieties, many previously unpublished" says Dr John Sills. Boar Horse has 80 fact-packed pages, 230 coin drawings and 37 other illustrations. Only £15 plus postage direct from Chris Rudd.
